

Useful websites for improving your English

St. Andrews
International School
Sukhumvit 107

There are lots of great language learning resources online. Here are some sites we highly recommend.

We recommend using YouGlish to help you pronounce new words. It provides lots of examples of how we use words in everyday speech.

This website is a good way to practice your writing. You complete a writing task and get instant feedback. Give it a try!

Listening to songs can be a great way to learn English! Check out this fun site called Lyrics Training. You listen to a pop song and type in the missing words.

You might enjoy these video activities too. Watching videos is another great way to practice your English.

Aargh! The dreaded grammar! If you want to learn more about English grammar, you'll find plenty of good activities on this site.

GRADED READERS
The Pleasure of Reading

It's really helpful to develop a reading habit. Here are some graded readers which you might find interesting. They include some language learning activities too!

